Grant Scholarship PhD Student Recruitment

We are looking for a motivated and talented scholar who wants to pursue a Ph.D. / M.A. within the areas of Science, Technology & Society.

This individual will work within the project ‘The Molecularization of Identity: Science and Nation Building in the 21st Century’ with PI Nanyang Assistant Professor Ian McGonigle at Nanyang Technological University (NTU), Singapore. This project aims to understand the interrelationships between science, technology, social identity and national development.

The successful candidate will work under the supervision of the PI to develop a new domain of research to contribute to the broader project goals.

Pre-requisites:
- A Masters / 2nd Class Upper Honours Bachelor's degree in the social sciences or a suitable related field.
- Experience with independent social science research.
- Excellent academic writing.
- Excellent written and spoken command of English (IELTS: 7).
- Excellent project management and multi-tasking skills.

Location of the programme:
The candidate will be part of a vibrant pool of graduate students in the Sociology program at NTU's School of Social Sciences. Click here for more details. Located in the heart of South-East Asia, Singapore is an ultra-modern city-state offering impeccable infrastructure, superb food and celebrated multiculturalism. The climate is warm year-round. Nanyang Technological University, located at the west of the island, was ranked 11th in the QS World University Rankings 2020.

This M.A. / Ph.D. position is funded full-time for a period of 4 years (fees and stipend included). Both Singaporean and international candidates are eligible to apply.

Interested candidates are requested to apply for admission online and send an email Dr Ian McGonigle (ianmcgonigle@ntu.edu.sg) with their CV [Email Subject: M.A./Ph.D. Scholarship Application]. Application for the January 2021 intake starts from 1 June and closes on 31 July 2020. Click here for more information on the application process and documents required.

Shortlisted applicants will be invited for interviews and the successful applicant will be expected to enroll in the Sociology M.A. or Ph.D. programme in January 2021.
